Amy & I are privileged to present our Flute and Drum Experience at sacred Camp Chesterfield this fall. This experience will heighten your awareness of natural energies evoked through these wonderful spiritual instruments and teach you how to use them for healing, balancing, personal growth, pleasure, and enjoyment. Musical talent is not necessary as the forces and energies of the universe flow through you and are released as messages of personal expression through your drum and flute. The Native American Flute is a very easy instrument to play and does not require constant practice such as a trumpet or silver flute to maintain proficiency. One may allow the expression of nature to come through you and your flute or drum within a few minutes having never played one before. Therefore, not flute and/or drum experience is required for this workshop and beginners are encouraged to participate as well as experienced players. We will guide everyone at their own pace. We are confident that you will find our presentations enlightening, challenging, pleasant, and fun.
